The spectacle of Councilman Joe Smith and Councilman Ernest Layton voting the same way on a controversial question, persuaded me to pick up an old book to refresh my memory about the time when the lion and the lamb would lie down together, and I wondered if the time had arrived. If they live happily ever after the answer is affirmatively. If not, who wants to be the lamb? For the scriptural edification and refreshment of the councilmen further enlightenment can be found in Isaiah 11:6.

Yep, the orange industry from the price standpoint, isn't so ferocious, but the problem isn't entirely confined to the grower. All Orange county is interested. Funny, though, that I haven't found anybody telling about those many fat years when the grower was getting all the way from $500 to a $1000 per acre for his crop. I just mention this lest we forget.

And where there's a will there's some money.

Called to chat with Postmaster Frank Harwood, and I didn't even mention the Maryland election. Our politics comes closer to home, and of much more immediate concern. When I asked him: "How's business," he just stamped his foot.

The weather performance Tuesday failed to get an encore from Santa Ana. "It's always cool in Santa Ana."

The Old Philosopher was in today to insist that the fellow born with a gold spoon in his mouth couldn't get the viewpoint of the fellow who rubbed up against the rough edges of experience. That money provided for idleness was an imposition of destruction, and an enemy of self-reliance. The old rule of earning your daily bread by the sweat of your brow was still good logic, and always would be. That if you didn't earn your own living someone else would have to earn it for you, and he thought there were too many who were willing to let someone else perform that service.

His activities seem to keep him young. More power to him, and visits not so infrequent.

Frank Matthys, who wants to run a press for a newspaper published in Manila, received the cheerful news from a group of associates that he would be met on arrival by a committee from the head-hunters union, that typhoons would blow him off the island, and with an annual rainfall of about 93 inches he better take along a boat. Magellan may have discovered the islands in 1521, but Matthys will rediscover them in 1938.

The proximity of European war sent the market into a nosedive. It came back the next day for another sock. The market is like some of the foreign countries which want to be let alone, and other nations won't let them alone.

Man Endorsed by President Runs Third in Race

ATLANTA. (AP)—Unofficial returns from yesterday's Democratic primary early this afternoon showed Senator Walter F. George running in the face of Presidential opposition.

The senate veteran was leading in the complete count from 71 of the state's 159 counties with 208 of the 410 unit votes in his column. He held the advantage to 11 more counties with an additional 30 unit votes apparently headed into his list.

Running second was former governor Eugene Talmage, a long time New Deal critic, while New Dealer Lawrence Camp, recipient of President Roosevelt's endorsement, was third in the three-man race. The figures gave Talmage 52 counties with 118 unit votes and he was ahead in 17 more with 34 unit votes. Camp held five counties with 12 unit votes on the basis of complete, unofficial returns and was ahead in three others with eight votes.

The popular vote was: George, 131,872; Talmage, 96,296; Camp, 71,635. Governor E. D. Rivers, seeking renomination to "complete" a little New Deal program, was leading in 95 counties with 264 unit votes. Hugh Howell, former Democratic state chairman, was second in the gubernatorial race with 144 unit votes in 63 counties.

John J. Mangham, Bremen business man, was leading with two unit votes from one county, his home county of Haralson.

Robert F. Wood, the fourth candidate, had no unit votes. Popular returns for governor were: Rivers 139,496; Howell, 119,570; Mangham 15,368 and Wood 1528.

There were only 141 precincts missing. Camp offered congratulatory to "the successful candidate" last night without naming him, adding "I regret that the fight has not succeeded at this time, but it is a fight that must win in the end."

Senator George, in a radio broadcast from his home in Vienna today said "the principles of true democracy have triumphed, and the voice of the people has been heard to carry on the true principles of democracy in our national politics."

George, who voted against the supreme court and government reorganization measure and opposed the original wages and hours bill, is chairman of the senate privileges and election committee and a member of the civil service, finance, foreign relations and special munitions industry investigation committees.

3 May Probe Pamphlet

Employment of three investigators to push the special grand jury's probe of the "Fools Rush In" political pamphlet case was reported under consideration today, as the jury awaited call of Foreman William Schumacher following its recess late yesterday for an indefinite date.

Three witnesses went before the jury yesterday, the first having been Leo J. Fris of Anaheim, attorney who boasted candidacy of George F. Holden, Anaheim attorney, for the office of district attorney.

Holden appeared before the jury to give testimony on a voluntary basis during the afternoon, but was not heard because the gist of his statements would be identical with those of Fris, it was reported.

District Attorney W. F. Menton, whose office is said to have amassed evidence in connection with the origin and publication of the now-famous anonymous political booklet which was distributed in the north county area before the primary, was with the jury for awhile.

Contrary to expectations, Menton was not closed with the jury during all its deliberations, although he is its legal counsel.

Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen, who impaneled the special grand jury Monday morning, appeared as a voluntary witness and was closed for about an hour. He emerged, hastened to his chambers and reappeared with another man whose identity was shielded. He was reported to have been an investigator.

The jury, which has regular workdays on Wednesdays made tentative arrangements for use of a jury room for tomorrow, although it will not meet before next Wednesday unless summoned by Foreman Schumacher.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The Lockheed Aircraft Corp. announced today it had received a rush order from the British Airways Limited for two 11-passenger, high speed transport airplanes. They will cost approximately $170,000. The company recently delivered four such planes to the British line for its European services—one of which was used by Prime Minister Chamberlain in his flight to Germany to confer with Adolf Hitler.

Chamberlain, Hitler Confer on Czech Crisis

Typical Czech troops are shown above in full war regalia and ready for any eventuality as the Sudeten German-Frague crisis drew nearer to actual war in Europe.

Henlein Demands Nazi Union

NO CZECHS FOR HITLER, CLAIM

ROME. (AP)—Italian assurance was given today that Adolf Hitler would not take the Czech population of Czechoslovakia even as a gift.

This was interpreted by some diplomats as an indirect offer of Germany to guarantee the Czechs integrity of their new frontier if they give up the Sudeten German areas to the Reich.

The assurance, embodied in an open letter to Viscount Runciman, British unofficial mediator of the Sudeten dispute, published in Premier Mussolini's Milan newspaper, Il Popolo D'Italia, was understood to have been written by Mussolini himself.

The letter was given a quasi-official character when it also was issued as a government communication.

"The writer of this letter is in a position to tell you—confidentially—that he did not want the 3,500,000 Czechs, Hitler would decline such a gift politely but resolutely," the letter said.

This could scarcely be given any other interpretation, diplomats said, than that Hitler had assured Mussolini he did not want the "Bohemia of tomorrow" and Mussolini had "confidentially" transmitted the assurance to Runciman and to the world.

Chinese Assert Japanese Checked

SHANGHAI. (AP)—By repeated counter-attacks at Kwangsi, Hupeh province town which Japanese troops occupied nine days ago, Chinese said today they were blocking the invaders' advance toward Hankow.

Japanese admitted that Chinese assaults were vicious but maintained all were repulsed.

More Territory Put Under Rule Of Czech Troops

PRAGUE. (AP)—Sudeten leader, Konrad Henlein today demanded German annexation of Czechoslovakia's Sudeten area and the government further extended martial law to meet possible new disorders arising from the demand.

Two new districts, bringing the total to 12, were placed under military control. Districts where martial law is in effect contain 2,000,000 of Czechoslovakia's 3,500,000 Sudeten Germans.

A DNB (German official news agency) dispatch said the entire population of the Sudeten border village of Philippsdorf crossed the frontier into Germany, staged a demonstration, and returned home loaded with swastika flags to decorate their houses.

Henlein's demand for annexation by Germany of the Sudeten German regions was contained in a proclamation addressed to Sudeten Germans and Germans in the Reich, declaring "it is definitely impossible for Sudeten Germans and Czechs to live in the same state."

"The Sudeten Germans want to return to our home in the Reich," it said, complaining that self-determination had been denied them in 1919.

"The Sudeten Germans have never renounced the right of self-determination. God bless us in our just fight."

Shortly after the proclamation was transmitted a general strike was called at Reichenberg, fourth largest industrial center in the country and six miles from the German frontier.

Reports received in Prague said all stores were closed and all business activities halted. Thousands of Sudeten in Reichenberg gathered in the streets after hearing Henlein's proclamation and shouted demands that Sudeten be annexed to Germany. (Continued on Page 2, Col. 6)

WOMEN GET THE CREDIT

LONDON. (AP)—Two women were credited in London society circles today with a big part in Prime Minister Chamberlain's decision to cut through centuries of Britain's staid diplomatic red tape to talk face to face with Adolf Hitler.

They were Virginia born Lady Nancy Astor and Lady Chamberlain, widow of the prime minister's later half-brother, Sir Austen Chamberlain, the distinguished statesman.

Lady Astor is a leading figure in that mysterious "cliveden set" which drew attention a few months ago when Chamberlain unlimited his "realistic" policy of appeasing Europe's dictators.

She and her conservative "pro-German" coterie were charged by left-wing newspapers with exerting powerful influence at No. 10 Downing street.

The movements of Lady Chamberlain have been even more mysterious. She was in Italy for months sipping tea with Premier Mussolini and his son-in-law, Foreign Minister Galeazzo Ciano, before Chamberlain made the overtures which resulted in the Easter pact of friendship with Italy.

Lady Chamberlain has just concluded a tour of Insurgent Spain as a privileged guest of Generalissimo Francisco Franco.

Hopes of World Rest on Session

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany. (AP)—It was officially announced tonight Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain will return to London tomorrow to consult the British cabinet after a three-hour talk today with Adolf Hitler at his Bavarian mountain retreat.

The British prime minister will return to Germany a few days later for further talks with the German fuhrer attempting to keep Europe out of war.

BERCHTESGADEN, Germany. (AP)—Prime Minister Chamberlain came to Adolf Hitler at his home today in a precedent-breaking personal effort to keep Europe out of war.

In the rain, Hitler welcomed at the entrance of his mountain retreat the elderly British statesman who dashed from London by plane and train to speak for the British Empire on the Czechoslovak crisis. Smiling broadly, looking hearty, Chamberlain stepped down from a special train at 4:02 p. m.

His glowing, confident appearance imparted anything but a gloomy outlook to the tremendous task he faced in his conference with Hitler. Despite a downpour, Chamberlain did not bother to raise the rolled umbrella he carried over his arm.

Gayly he doffed his hat as a crowd of thousands, mostly under umbrellas, "heeled" again and again.

Dr. Otto Meissner, chief of the chancellery, greeted the prime minister at the station. Accompanying Chamberlain were Joachim von Ribbentrop, German foreign minister; Sir Neville Henderson, British ambassador; and Henderson's two aides from the British foreign office, Sir Horace John Wilson and William Strang.

The party wasted no time. As the crowd cheered, Hitler's personal car whisked Chamberlain off to the Grand hotel, where he will make his headquarters. Then after a brief stop the party drove the remaining eight miles to Hitler's home, Berghof on Obersalzberg.

Before getting down to business, Der Fuehrer invited the prime minister to have tea in the Great hall of Berghof. The entire Chamberlain and Hitler entourage participated.

Nazi officials gathered here were still pleased over the unexpected turn in the situation as a result of Chamberlain's dramatic appeal for a personal audience with Hitler. They were unwilling, however, even to guess what proposals Chamberlain might have brought to end the tense crisis.

RAY L. RILEY TAKES LEAD

SA FRANCISCO. (AP)—Ray L. Riley took the lead from anti-New Dealer Philip Bancroft for the California Republican senatorial nomination today when complete reports from the Aug. 30 primary were tabulated. The tabulation included official figures from 32 of the state's 58 counties, unofficial from the others.

Riley had 294,114 votes and Bancroft 293,529, giving Riley a veteran state official, a lead of only 585 but it represented a reversal of the position of the two contenders.

For days Bancroft had been running in the lead but struggling returns gradually whittled down his margin. Riley finally emerged on top when Sierra, Tulare and Kern counties completed their tabulations, giving the complete unofficial count from the state's 12,438 precincts.

If You Have Faith in Your City, Vote 'Yes'

By DR. MARGARETE D. BAKER
Member Santa Ana Board of Education

One of the major assets of a town is its schools. Santa Ana can well be proud of its fine elementary, junior high and high schools. The attendance has shown a steady increase, and thanks to an understanding public, we have been enabled to keep pace in our school building program with increasing demands.

Our junior college is the only plant which cannot be expanded further to meet increasing demands of students who wish to take advantage of higher education. Attendance there has increased from 203 in 1925 to a round thousand in 1938. All of us who believe in the future growth of Santa Ana know that we must meet this increasing demand upon our educational system.

The junior college in America has made a definite place for itself. California's junior colleges rate the highest of any state. Santa Ana has one of the two junior colleges located in Orange county.

We feel that our faculty is well prepared to offer the courses which are generally included in the first and second years of the large university. We now hope with the assistance of the voting public to house our teachers and students in adequate quarters. Our present makeshift facilities with inadequate and scattered buildings are not a befitting credit to our splendid community.

Many qualified students worthy of taking advanced work are financially unable to attend out-of-town colleges or their parents prefer to have them nearer home a little longer. The smaller class groups of our local college are also an asset.

Acting upon the recommendation of about one hundred of our leading citizens, the board of education has decided to ask voters of this community to support a new junior college for Santa Ana by their approval at a school bond election to be held on September 23.

We all fully realize the great need of a new junior college and feel that the time is particularly opportune because we are to have the assistance of the federal government in the form of a 45 per cent outright grant which amounts to $315,000. We are asking our citizens to vote for the remainder, a sum of $385,000, necessary to build a plant with adequate facilities.

If you have faith in the future of your town and in the judgment of us, your duly elected servants, you will vote "yes" on September 23, and thus contribute your share toward the growth of Santa Ana.

MOVE MAKES U. S. WORLD'S MONEY CENTER

WASHINGTON. (AP)—Secretary Morgenthau disclosed today that the European crisis has caused the "largest flight to the dollar in history."

The treasury head declined to estimate the amount of foreign funds sent here for safe keeping but figures on recent treasury gold acquisitions indicate several hundred million dollars of foreign cash have arrived here in the last few weeks.

"This movement proves," Morgenthau declared, "that the United States is the financial center of the world and can resist the kind of nervousness that people with money fear."

"There is no reason for alarm over this movement. If people want to send money here for refuge, we are glad to accommodate them."

The secretary said he was in constant touch by transatlantic telephone and cable with the financial authorities of England, France, Belgium, Switzerland and the Netherlands for the purpose of cooperating with them as signatories of the 1936 tri-partite monetary agreement in stabilizing international exchange.

Morgenthau asserted, however, that the United States was not devaluing any currency but the dollar and that when it helped any other currency it did so at the request of a foreign government and with that government's money. He added that whenever the treasury's stabilization fund bought any foreign currency for the government of that country, it required reimbursement in gold or dollars within 24 hours.

"When you consider the nervousness all over the world due to the European situation," Morgenthau continued, "it is extremely remarkable that there has been as little fluctuation in foreign exchange as there has been."

"One reason is that congress has given the treasury the necessary legislation and means with which to see that no groups manipulate the dollar to the disadvantage of the American business man."

He said he referred particularly to the stabilization fund, which was given $2,000,000,000 worth of gold in 1934 to stabilize the value of the dollar in terms of other currencies.

Martial Law Rules Eight Sudeten Areas

With 12 persons dead, seven of them Czechs and five Sudeten Germans, in a series of disorders, Czechoslovakia placed eight Sudeten German districts under martial law, and as a result civil war, if not worse, was feared. In Berlin, Nazi spokesmen said the action "justified the worst fears." The above map shows the martial law districts, with the exception of Boehmisch-Kerman, not shown.

The Exchange... its Members...and this Community

How the three share a common welfare

An important share of this community's wealth in property and trade has been derived from the world-sale of citrus fruits grown here. Without a strong growers' organization this industry might still be in the stage of fifty years ago.

Prior to 1893, a number of marketing methods were tried. But stability was not attained until the growers united to serve themselves, forming the California Fruit Growers Exchange.

Today 200,000 people are directly dependent on the industry for their livelihood. Over half a billion dollars are invested in groves and packing houses in California and Arizona.

These figures measure the responsibility of the Exchange in a leadership implicit in representing over three-fourths of the citrus industry.

The Exchange cannot be content with the market as it finds it. It must do what no small marketing agency can attempt. It must make markets, through the careful expansion of distribution and with the aid of Sunkist advertising.

Exchange growers govern directly the policies and administration of their organization. They know that its success rests wholly upon the service rendered its members and the industry.

The Exchange needs and merits the active support of growers, business men, bankers and the public. From united effort will result better control of distribution, more energetic selling, increased consumer demand, better returns and the furthered welfare of every citizen of citrus districts.

left nothing undone to make Chamberlain's drive from the station to Berghof a noteworthy one. Four Mercedes cars were placed at the disposal of the British party.

As Chamberlain drove up the steep, super-highway to Berghof, he was said to have praised the scenery.

Der Fuehrer stood in Berghof's broad door as the cars approached. Then he walked down the spacious steps and greeted his guests with cordial handshakes.

Meanwhile, the army and the gendarmes were ordered to act swiftly with all the force necessary to stop shooting affrays in which at least 23 persons have been killed in the past three days.

The figure of 23 was fixed by the government, which is publishing its tabulations only after careful investigation. It appeared certain that many lives were lost and many more wounded in the fighting along the 125-mile Sudeten border.

"Stop this rebellion before it becomes an European conflict," were instructions to the army, the police and the gendarmes.

But on swift action, it appeared that probably before the end of the day the government would convene one of the special courts provided by martial law at Eger, Sudeten stronghold where officers encountered machine gun fire as they tried to capture a sniper in Victoria hotel.

2 SUSPECTED ROBBERS HELD

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Police and sheriff's officers arrested two men today on Compton boulevard in a truck which they said contained burglary tools, ropes and other paraphernalia for large scale looting.
Those arrested gave their names as Albert Edman, 38, and George Smith Ellis, both of Los Angeles. Deputy Sheriff John Claxton and Detective Lieutenants R. L. Barber and C. W. Chilson of the Los Angeles police said Edman admitted having served time in both Joliet, Ill., and Walla Walla, Wash., penitentiaries, and that both men confessed several burglaries here.

While 288,000 more persons moved from farm to city in this country in 1937 than vice versa, farm population still showed a gain because of the high birth rate.

Los Angeles Votes On Recall Of Mayor Frank Shaw Friday

JUDGE BOWRON CONTENDER FOR HIGH POST

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—An election caused by a bomb will determine Friday if Los Angeles is to have as mayor a former reporter who makes no campaign promises.
The bomb exploded last January. It critically injured a private detective, Harry Raymond, who was seeking evidence of municipal corruption for a citizens' committee.
Two policemen were convicted of conspiring to kill Raymond. Their trial set off a barrage of charges against the municipal administration of graft and gangland connections.

It started petitions circulating for an election to supplant Mayor Frank L. Shaw, a suave, affable, former grocer.
The most colorful of three rivals for the office is Superior Court Judge Fletcher Bowron.

A mild, chubby man, he learned law in his spare time, was appointed judge in 1926, and has been re-elected twice.
He agreed to run for mayor only on these conditions:
That he would have to make no pledges;
That no campaign worker would be promised a job;
And that campaign contributions would be earmarked "for the cause of good government."

One dollar was the contribution asked. "No one can buy control of government for a dollar," Bowron says.
Other Bowron beliefs:
"We all are commercial vice, but as a practical matter, this is a large community and cannot be made lily-white."
"Anti-gambling laws lead to corruption. Money which protected gamblers can take in enables them to elect public officials."
"We can take the profit out of prostitution and gambling and see to it that there are no protected cliques or monopolies."
"We have legalized horse race betting. If we want other forms of gambling, let us legalize them for everybody."
He is a candidate of the Federation of Civic Betterment, a citizens' group organized after the bombing.
His rivals against Mayor Shaw are Alvin Riggs, educator, and Albert Osterloh, retired tire manufacturer.

FIRST TRAIN OF VETERANS REACHES L. A.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The first of 80 special trains bringing delegates to the American Legion national convention arrived today from Birmingham, N. Y.
Following a few hours later was a 16-car train from Chicago.
Meanwhile, with committees busy whipping convention plans into shape, it was announced 26,000 persons would march in one of the greatest parades over one of the shortest routes next Tuesday that Los Angeles has witnessed.
Because of the promised congestion and potential fire danger, the city fire commission ordered the parade to begin on Figueroa street at Twenty-third, at the lower end of the business district.
There the marchers, including 125 musical organizations, will go to the Coliseum, about 20 block away.
Preparing to handle the crowds, expected to include 150,000 visitors, Police Chief James E. Davis announced police would go on 12-hour shifts, beginning next Saturday night. The detective bureau will be reduced to a skeleton force and the majority of its members assigned to radio patrol cars.
The Legion will detail special units to aid police.
The 40 et 8 fun-making parade will be held Monday in the downtown business district.
Two former state department presidents, Mrs. A. H. Hoffman of Des Moines, Iowa, and Mrs. James Morris, Bismarck, N. D., will be candidates for national auxiliary president in the election next Thursday.

COLORADO TRIP CONTINUED

JENSEN, Utah. (AP)—Two daring explorers of the Colorado river rested here today, ready to resume tomorrow a 900-mile journey to the Gulf of California.
Buzz Holmstrom of Coquille, Ore., who last year became the first person to negotiate the Colorado river alone, arrived down the Green river last night with Amos Burg, National Geographic society photographer, and Phil Lundstrum, Portland, Ore., commercial artist.
Three left Gree: River, Wyo., Sept. 3 and had but one mishap on the 250-mile journey. One boat overturned and Burg clung to it through several rapids before beaching it.
Lundstrum left the party here. He is to be married at Portland next week, he said.
Holmstrom and Burg hope to reach Guaymas, Sonora, in the Gulf of California, within six weeks. They plan to stop en route for supplies at Lees Ferry, Ariz., and Lake Head, Nev.

C. J. MARKS IS L. A. SPEAKER

C. J. Marks, executive secretary of the Orange County Farm Bureau, was a speaker yesterday at the agricultural section of the western regional safety conference in Los Angeles.

Speaking on the subject of "Falls on the Farm," Marks told delegates from 11 western states attending the conference that accidents on the farm cause a loss of $10,000,000 in California every year.
One-fifth of farm accidents are caused by falls, he said. Careless and faulty construction of ladders, scaffolding and other equipment are the principal factors. He urged "good housekeeping on the farm" as a remedy.
Another delegate to the conference from Orange county is Lester Tubbs of the Orange County Auto club who was scheduled to speak at a traffic safety group today.

Sun spots are dark, cloudlike regions from 500 to 50,000 miles in diameter which last from a day to a week and in number in 11-year cycles.

COLUMBUS, Ga. (AP)—Maj. John R. Brooke, jr., 45-year-old infantry school tactician, faced life imprisonment in a federal penitentiary today for his comely wife's brutal slaying.

Brooke broke into sobs as Judge Bascom Deaver passed sentence last night after a federal court jury returned a verdict of "guilty of murder in the first degree, without capital punishment."
The prosecution charged Brooke bludgeoned his wife, 42, to death June 8 and left her body in a pool of blood at the foot of stairs in their Fort Benning quarters.
Brooke maintained his innocence and insisted he had never laid hands on his wife in anger.

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—The successful campaign of State Senator Culbert L. Olson for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination cost $103,664.06, his statement filed with the county recorder, disclosed today.

Largest single contributor was E. W. Wilson of San Francisco, who was listed as having given $6,179.56.

Gov. Frank F. Merriam, the Republican nominee, spent $1,743.50 in the August 30 primary, his statement showed. The governor listed contributions from friends.

Raymond L. Haight, the Progressive party's nominee for the governorship, spent $7,286.40, he stated.

Olson's report of expenditures was by far the largest of any candidate in the primary. His statement gave no totals for particular purposes, but examination showed that major amounts were spent for campaign printing and advertising and clerk hire.

Among the larger contributors to Olson's campaign, in addition to Wilson were: A. C. Parkquist, $2,000; J. P. Gibson, $2,000; Richard C. Olson, $2,700; Superior Judge Robert W. ## I Just Found Out About Orange County

By BOB SWANSON

Farm Advisor

Although he isn't the author of a loveless column, Harold E. Wahlberg has been giving advice for 20 years.

It's not your personal problem he's trying to solve—his job is giving expert advice and scientific information to Orange County's 6000 farmers whenever they need or ask for it.

Since Sept. 1, 1917, when he became county farm advisor, Wahlberg and his staff have sent out a constant stream of advice on farm problems—they'll tell you, for instance, when to begin irrigating, when and how to fertilize, how to take care of trees, when to plant crops, how to market crops, or all about soil erosion.

The staff of five which comprises the local farm advisor's office has to be a walking library on agricultural information. They must have information demanded by farmers on their fingertips, or know where it can be obtained in a hurry while the farmer holds the 'phone.

Staff members are the link between the scientist and the farmer, Wahlberg explains. They must be able to apply the findings of agricultural research to local conditions and in a way readily understood by the producer.

The office is a branch of the University of California and the United States department of agriculture. It operates locally under a three-way arrangement: salaries are paid by the university and agricultural department, the office and local transportation expenses by the county of Orange.

Its function: to carry on an educational program with farm families on production, cultural and economic problems. Main object: to make rural life more profitable and attractive.

Besides being subject to call at any time by any farmer, the staff holds seasonal field demonstrations dealing with current cultural problems in the field and in the livestock industry; holds institutes in search of answers to troublesome questions; conducts educational programs through meetings.

They prepare analyses on cost of producing the major crops, so the farmer will know where his production costs are too high; sponsor the 22 4-H clubs in the county, and stand ready to explain complex crop control programs such as the AAA.

Test plots have been established in orchards and fields throughout the county to try out new theories of disease control, fertilization, irrigation, care of trees, and similar problems. The test plots are carried on from season to season to check results of new methods over a long period of time.

Example: a test plot in a citrus orchard at Fullerton was established more than 10 years ago, observations and tests are still being made. There are test plots for walnuts, lemons, beans.

With those duties a five-man staff finds itself working long hours. Night meetings are numerous, require still more time.

Constant reading and study is essential to keep ahead of current developments. The U.S. department of agriculture and the state university send a constant flow of bulletins and reports.

The staff last year gave information to 6500 farmers who came to the office and to 2300 who telephoned. They issued 11,000 bulletins, wrote 7000 letters, prepared 52 radio programs, and conducted 170 demonstration meetings, 19 field demonstration tours, 12 institutes and 97 community meetings.

Wahlberg figures the farm advisor's office has made some 40,000 contacts with farmers during the past year, says probably every farmer in the county has been reached from time to time.

Wahlberg is one of the few farm advisors in California who have served in one county for 20 years. He is the oldest advisor from point of service in Southern California.

Most significant change in agricultural practice during the past two decades, he says, is revised irrigation practice. Experiments showed conservative and economical irrigation paid bigger dividends.

Another outstanding development: wind protection by growing eucalyptus trees for windbreaks. There are now 1000 miles of windbreaks in the county; practically all were planted upon encouragement of the farm advisor's office.

Windbreaks cause winds to "jump" over groves and reduce velocity of wind that passes through the trees. Windbreaks pay dividends: fruit is not knocked to the ground or bruised as badly.

Wahlberg champions conservative irrigation in the orchard, less cultivation, more cover crops, windbreak protection in the exposed districts, simple fertilizer practice, better bud selection, soil conservation, better production cost records, more efficient production.

Wahlberg gives credit to 345 project leaders who cooperated with his staff for the promotion of

G. G. Chamber Of Commerce Drafts Big Improvement Program

AID STATION, SIDEWALKS, SIGNS PLANNED

GARDEN GROVE.—With discussion and action centering around the proposal of establishing a Red Cross First Aid station, for obtaining a PWA sidewalk and curbs project, the placing of advertising signs at the main approaches to town, the extension of the present water district and endorsement of the proposal of the Girl Scouts and Y. W. C. A. to use the Chamber building for meetings, Tuesday evening meeting of the Chamber of Commerce proved to be an unusually busy session as well as civic-minded one.

E. J. Tolias, fire chief, presented the proposal for establishing the Red Cross First Aid station. With six firemen and himself now holding the highest first aid certification, Tolias is willing to donate his services to the community, he said both the Red Cross and county officials, who are in control of the fire district were willing that the station be established, but wished the endorsement of the chamber, which was unanimously given, before going ahead. The plan he said is to use the fire truck for the present with a car to be obtained for the emergency work later.

With much of the residence area without sidewalks and curbs it was proposed at a previous meeting that some plan be developed on a WPA project to assist property owners in placing these improvements. Howard Moore reported that preliminary investigation showed that such a plan could be worked out if at least 51% of the property owners signed up. Irvine German and Clair Head were appointed to work with Mr. Moore in completing the necessary plans and getting the petitions into circulation.

Following a report by President H. Clay Kellogg, that many residents felt that more signs advertising Garden Grove were needed on main roads entering town, he was instructed to name a committee on investigation of costs and best locations for placing the signs. Howard Moore was named chairman with power to call on any or all of the chamber directors to assist.

Petitions for the extension of the water district on Garden Grove boulevard and Stanford avenue between Brookhurst and Gilbert road are now being signed, Irvine German reported and as soon as completed will be presented to the board of supervisors, who will call an election.

Recommendation that the Girl Scouts and Y. W. C. A. be given use of the Chamber building, which is owned by the county, when it does not conflict with organizations now using the building was given after Mrs. W. E. Sullivan and Miss Fairs Virgin appeared on behalf of the girls groups, who at present have no meeting place. A Girl Scout meeting place, already organized they explained and plans are now under way for organizing various groups under the Y. W. C. A.

San Diego — Hollywood discovered its new cool week-end playground. They swam down by the hundreds to Bing Crosby's beautiful new race track at Del Mar.

Glenda Farrell was there in a most demurely tailored grey suit with white sport hat, white blouse and shoes. And Helen March in wine red with a Dardenella blue sport hat with wine band. And Mrs. Andy Devine in new Teal—a tailored wool suit with copper hat and bag.

It was a summery crowd primarily, with suits by all odds the outstanding thing. Some were tailored types but the outstanding ones were new autumn colors and lots of plaids, particularly for suit jackets. New fall details were quite noticeable when one found them. However, one could find a high and tiny hat here or there, or new blue fox jackets or a swirl of silver foxes. One very outstanding woman wore a new afternoon frock of Teal green, long waisted and moulded with full skirt, and a tiny doll's hat to match dabbled with wine and mauve flowers.

Not fashions in clothes—but tremendously humorous and human—was the milling mass of human beings against the wire fence which separated the grandstand from the clubhouse and jockey club. Run as the horses might, these had eyes for the in-field. They were autograph hunters, straining for peek at their cinema idols. All a tureen long they milled about taking turns against the wires—with so much of Hollywood on just the other side!

Santiago Creek Bed to Be Paved, Providing Parking Space, Protecting Rock Walls

It's only in California that they could do it—and only in Orange that they'd try it.

The "it" is the paving of the Santiago creek bed. The job, unique in the Southland annals of civic betterment, will be to provide unlimited parking space at the new Orange city park, and incidentally to protect the native rock retaining walls from damage during seasons of heavy rains.

Costing $90,000, including only a small percentage of cost to the city, the paving job is scheduled to start Oct. 1. City Engineer Casey Bonebrake of Orange said, "Aids scheduled as a Works Progress Administration job, as the creek paving work, is the $132,000 project of laying a sewer line along Tustin avenue, soon to be repaved by the state.

Permit for the construction was issued yesterday by Inspector R. Nyboer to Contractor Harry Nichols.

The plant unit will be built on a foundation laid by Works Progress administration men early in the year. One wing, costing $80,000, recently was completed. It also was erected on a WPA foundation.

LOCHINVAR IN RAGS

by KATHRYN CULVER

Julie Hamilton, small-town Southern girl, regrets her engagement to Kenneth Terry. When she meets a handsome, impoverished young Westerner, hating to New York for a radio audition, they fall in love, and she breaks her engagement to Kenneth. A little later, however, to prevent a fight between Barry and Kenneth, she desperately tells Barry she has merely been flirting with him. The next day, she tries to explain but, before she has a chance to convince him that she lied to him, he goes away embittered. Several weeks later, when she learns that he is singing at the Poll Parrot Cafe in Atlanta, she hurries to Atlanta, gets in touch with an old beau, Duke Chambers, a newspaper reporter, and asks him to take her to the Poll Parrot. When they reach the cafe, Barry is singing. On seeing her he stops singing and through her, then turns his back.

"LISTEN!" said Julie, getting another idea. "Maybe we could arrange for some music critic or radio scout to come here. I'm sure he'd get his chance if anyone like that heard him. And he need not know I had anything to do with it. That way, I could help him without his knowing it."

"U-m-m," said Duke thoughtfully. "I might speak to Cal Hilton, our music critic. Cal is a good egg. He's a street singer, and his fingers. 'By Jove! That reminds me. There is a talent scout for the American Broadcasting Company in town, Cal had him in tow today."

"Oh, Duke!" said Julie excitedly. "That's marvelous! Couldn't you get your friend Cal to bring him here?"

"Well, maybe," Duke became pessimistic again. "I might arrange it all right, but I'm afraid it wouldn't do much good—not with Caldwell's present accompanist. She would ruin any remote chance he might have of making an impression."

Julie's excitement collapsed. "Oh, dear!" she moaned. "They were both silent a moment. Then, Duke rose suddenly. 'Look, he said, 'I think I'll make some street inquiries—find out why that woman is here.' He was gone about five minutes. When he returned, he shook his head ruefully."

"Dirty work at the crossroads," he reported. "It seems the pianist's husband is the regular singer here. When he was taken to the hospital last week, Caldwell was hired as a temporary substitute. The contrary opinion hereabouts is that the old gal resins Caldwell is a much better singer than her hubby, and she's afraid the management might fire the old boy and give Caldwell the regular job. So she's doing her part to keep the payroll in the family by messing up Caldwell's accompaniments."

"But that's outrageous!" Julie exclaimed.

Duke shrugged. "Life in a big city, Julie. You have to fight tooth and nail for what you get in this world."

Julie sat frowning, thinking this over. "What's that woman's name?" she asked suddenly. "Did you find out?"

N. Y. Tests Prove Women Can Lose FAT
Ask Your Doctor If It Isn't Good Way. Read EVERY Word
NEW YORK, N. Y.: A test conducted by a prominent N. Y. physician and a nationally known newspaper woman proved there is a harmless, easy way to lose fat. If you'll only STICK TO IT and give it a fair trial. In 40 days, 25 women lost a total of 285 lbs. EVERY woman lost fat—the average loss per woman being 11 1/2 lbs. The women first of all ate less. And for proper functioning they took a little daily dose of Kruschen Salts. You have the slightest doubt that this is just ask your own doctor about its safety and merit. And this is important to know: Kruschen is not just one salt as some people may ignorantly believe. Rather, it's a blend of 6 active mineral salts (see on box), which when dissolved in water, make a healthful mineral drink similar to the waters of famous European spas, where wealthy fat women have gone for years. Here's the Kruschen Plan: Just take a half teaspoonful of Kruschen in hot water every morning for better functioning. Go light on fatty foods and sweets—eat plentifully of lean meats, fresh fruits and green vegetables. Plan to do this faithfully for 28 days and see if you don't lose fat and feel healthier and younger. A jar costs but a few cents and makes a great deal of a most highly efficient mineral health water. At McCoy Drug, and druggists everywhere.

SECURITY FOR LOAN IS ISSUE

Whether the First National bank violated a regulation of the Home Owners' Loan corporation in accepting its bonds as security for a loan to Charles Kelley, local burglar, became a pertinent question today as a superior court battle over the loan started.

Attorney Ridley Smith, counsel for Kelley and his wife, Louise, alleged in court that the bank should not have taken the HOLC bonds of $7586.50 as security for the $1675 loan the Kelleys received, and declared that this was an illegal procedure.

The suit, being heard before Superior Judge G. K. Scovel, is for recovery of the $1050 the Kelleys said they paid on the note, and for cancellation of the entire amount.

Attorney Smith alleged that a provision of the home owners' loan act states that its bonds are to be the only encumbrances on properties.

Tux and Gown Chatter

Suits, the old winter standby, will still go strong this winter... particularly the kind with long tubular jackets. Designers have fashioned new and very attractive necklines that will flatter. Collarless jackets with wide lapels, plain, one-inch stand-up collars, with rounded lapels, and dress type collars that are in one piece with the front, and just scores of different styles.

The mannish suit for fall and winter, is straight and slim... all suits are as straight and slim as one can stand, and its jacket is long. The idea is to look as string-beanish as possible.

The bloused suit is the type to use for velvet. You will find velvet one of the leading materials for fall and winter. Its softness describes femininity to the nth degree. Velvet is so beautiful, especially in grey and greyed shades, and looks like nothing we have ever had before.

Remember in your suit skirt... or dress skirt, that they will be no shorter than they were in the summer. This means somewhere between 13 and 15 inches from the floor...

Until next week... BARBARA.

500 Legionnaires Of Orange Co. To March

L. A. PARADE EXPECTED TO LAST 12 HOURS

An estimated 500 Orange county Legionnaires will march next Tuesday in Los Angeles' giant parade which will highlight the national convention of the American Legion.

The Orange county unit will begin the march at 1:30 p. m., although the first units of the parade will leave the starting place at 9:30 a. m. The parade is expected to last for 12 hours.

Com. Arthur Eklund said today the parade will form on Park Row, Bonsalla and Estrala streets, disbanding at the Coliseum.

Leading the county's marching unit will be a mounted section of approximately 12 horses and riders carrying the post banners. Each row of horses will be of a different color. Orange county's "world's largest plow" will be drawn by a 20-horse team driven by Ed Stinson of Orange. The marchers will be dressed in orange shirts, white trousers, Legion ties and Legion caps.

Five floats from the state of Mississippi, which will lead the entire parade, will pass through Santa Ana Sept. 23 on the return trip, Eklund said.

Santa Ana delegates to the state Legion convention, to be held in Santa Monica tomorrow and Saturday, will be, in addition to Commander Eklund, Harold Rasmussen, C. N. Featherly, Hunter Leach, E. S. Sullivan, Ernest Ballow, Allison Honer, James Anderson, Ralph Mitchell, Charles Van Wyk, Mike Lynch, Andrew Lykke and Grant Kyle.

Doherty Here for Conclave

National Commander Daniel J. Doherty and his wife are shown as they arrived in Los Angeles to attend the Twentieth National American Legion convention which opens Monday. Doherty planned to supervise last minute arrangements for the convention.

S. A. Building In 15 Days Is Past $100,000

Indications that building construction in Santa Ana for the month of September might set a record was seen today, as the valuation of permits issued for the first 15 days of this month soared over the $100,000 mark.

A $3000 permit granted to Violet Irvine for a residence at 2028 South Sycamore brought the total for the month thus far to $102,665. This is the highest mid-month figure this year, according to Building Inspector H. O. Rasmussen.

If the valuation of permits for the remaining 15 days is as great, September will be by far the heaviest month of the year in building activity, Rasmussen said.

Highest for any month to date was August when a total of $132,924 in permits was recorded.

TIBBALS WINS SPEAK-OFF OF TOASTMASTERS

D. H. Tibbals of the Santa Ana Y. M. C. A. won first place in the speak-off contest of Smedley Chapter No. 1 of Toastmasters International at Daniel's cafe last night.

In his talk, entitled "Houdini of Every Day," he gave a graphic description of the magic change of dirty rags into beautiful paper. As a reward for winning the speak-off, Tibbals will have his name engraved on the living cup.

Other speakers were David Cheery, "It's a Lie," T. E. McLeod, "A Democratic Holiday," W. W. Cadwallader, "Hands, Hands the Atrocious Things," Dr. John P. Davis, "Happiness and Calmness," and Warren O. Mendenhall, "Conservation of Articulation."

Walter Ferris presided as Toastmaster. General critic for the occasion was Ralph Smedley, assisted by George Minor, Jim Wright, George Perkins, Daniel K. Brown, Fred E. Davis, Walker, and others who spoke extemporaneously.

During the business session conducted by President Sam Long, a nominating committee for new officers was named, including Robert E. Perry, E. Davis, and Walter Ferris. Guests were A. S. Sullivan and Lester A. Jones.

A comparison of the advantages of the school of hard knocks with a more protected education was the table topic, conducted by J. Lee Woods.

LEGION LEADERS WHIP INTO SHAPE L. A. CONVENTION PLANS

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—American Legion leaders from all parts of the country begin committee sessions tomorrow, intent on whipping into shape the last details of the World War veterans' annual convention opening Monday.

The resolutions assignment committee called its first meeting tomorrow. Commander Daniel J. Doherty's publicity group and two others convene Saturday, with six more sessions called for Sunday and the remaining 11 on Monday.

Meanwhile, as the thousands of members of the organization arrived in increasing numbers, preparations were finished today for various other preliminary affairs scheduled over the week-end.

The annual founders' dinner will be held Sunday night—drawing members of the groups which attended conferences in Paris and St. Louis in 1919, and formally launched the Legion's career.

Blair Townsend, Phoenix, Ariz., president of the American Legion founders, will be in charge. Louis A. Johnson, assistant secretary of war and former national commander of the Legion; Gov. Frank F. Merriam of California and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York City will deliver the major addresses.

Indians Will Fly To Vets Session

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Combining ancient heritage and modern transportation, more than 100 American Indians from Oklahoma will arrive by airplane tomorrow to participate in American Legion convention activities and demonstrate tribal ceremonies.

Led by 80-year-old Chief White Horse, they will carry 37 "teepees" in a Washington boulevard village, from which they will emerge tomorrow night to light seven symbolic Indian fires, stage and dance and a mud-healing ceremony and play hosts at a two-hour reception.

Commander of the Legion; Gov. Frank F. Merriam of California and Mayor Fiorello LaGuardia of New York City will deliver the major addresses.

He'll Have One to 10 Years to Think About Fatal Party

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—John A. Wood, 28, a gardener, will have from 1 to 10 years in San Quentin prison to try and recall what happened "after drinking all that beer and whiskey."

Wood, pleading guilty yesterday to a manslaughter charge, said he did not remember driving an automobile which ran down and killed William Delunski, 27, and Arthur Johnson, 51, last June 4. He said before the accident he had consumed large quantities of beer and whiskey at the home of friends.

Ex-Mayor, Guilty On 6 Counts, Dies

Water District Prepares Gun Club Injunction Suits

COURT HOLDS BEACH CRAFTS LAW IS VALID

Validity of the Newport Beach law requiring examinations of all craftsmen before they can work in that city was upheld yesterday afternoon when Presiding Superior Judge James L. Allen denied Fred Reif, a Santa Ana plumber, his suit to compel Newport Beach officials to issue him a license.

Reif went into court last July after the board of plumbing examiners, Sam Kinsfather, M. C. Smith and Lewis Wright, declined to issue Reif a certificate of competency enabling him to do business in the beach city.

Reif alleged that he was examined Dec. 15, 1937, and got a permit for six months. He sought its renewal for the fiscal year and was refused, he maintained. He then went into court with a writ of mandamus, and an order to show cause was issued. After several delays and continuances, the case went to trial yesterday.

The defense, City Atty. Roland Thompson of Newport Beach, alleged that Reif's certificate was in error, and that he had not passed the qualification examination.

Plaintiff's attorneys, Harry Westover and A. P. Nelson, both of Santa Ana, charged that the Newport Beach officials were discriminatory and that the ordinance itself was not valid.

The court held that the ordinance would stand and that if Reif did not pass the examination for a master plumber's certificate, he could be forbidden to do work there on contract basis and the city was not required to issue him a permit to do business.

JUNIOR COLLEGE PROJECT TO BE EXPLAINED FRIDAY NIGHT

Citizens desiring to learn complete information pertaining to the coming bond election for Santa Ana Junior college were urged today to attend a meeting in the Y. M. C. A. building 7:30 p. m. tomorrow.

According to the local public affairs council sponsoring the round table discussion, all phases of the proposed project will be open for discussion. Local educators and other interested citizens will lead the discussions, it was announced.

R. B. Newcom, president of the organization, said that the public is invited and earnestly urged to be present at the meeting to "learn the true facts about the college situation." Aside from Newcom, other officials in the organization include Homer Chaney, vice president; William Tway, secretary-treasurer; and L. L. Beeman, program chairman.

George Wells, president of the board of education; Superintendent Frank A. Henderson; Director D. K. Hammond of the jaycee; and Harold Yost, city school auditor, will be in attendance to participate in the discussion.

All phases of the project will be open for public discussion, it was revealed. Need for more space, cost, competition of nearby jaycees, taxation, and facts about local enrollment and out-of-state students are among the topics to be discussed.

FLOOD UNIT'S DATA IS READY FOR ACTION

Prospects that the proposed injunction suit against several of the gun clubs operating under a county licensing law would be filed in superior court soon were seen today, following a meeting of directors of the Orange County Water district and other development which shed light on the situation.

Directors, in their meeting yesterday afternoon, discussed the impending injunction suits against various of the gun clubs, but did not indicate when the suits would be filed in court.

They received word from the supervisors that all records of the flood control district regarding use of water by the various clubs would be turned over to the district for its use if needed. This information had been asked in a communication from C. A. Palmer, secretary of the district.

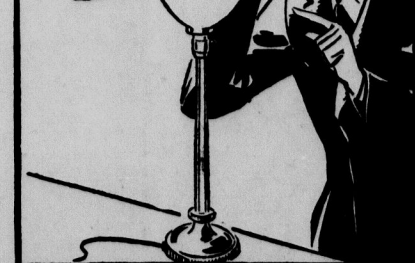

The district directors and supervisors "huddled" Tuesday, but refused to discuss their conversations with newsmen.

It was reported, however, that among discussions they had behind closed doors were those hinging around the use of water by the gun clubs. The district charged that many are withdrawing more water than the nine inches allowed under the licensing law.

Supervisors, asked to repeal the licensing law, refused and so the injunction action was threatened. District directors hope to have declared unconstitutional this law, and have substituted the former so-called "water waste" law which decreed that pumping of water by the gun clubs is non-beneficial and therefore illegal.

The licensing law has been in effect since late in 1936, just before the present board of supervisors organized. This board has, however, repeatedly refused to repeal the controversial law.

NAVY GRIDDERS PRAISE SEVERAL OF OUR DONS

Some of the U. S. S. West Virginians were warming up on the Municipal bowl sidelines in the midst of a spirited scrimmage with our junior college gridders Tuesday night. Pointing to Left Tackle Ed Becker and Fullback Art Heinisch of the Dons, one of the sailors commented, "Those boys really know how to hit." The navy athletes also praised the all-around work of Co-Capt. Larry Timken in the backfield after the beautiful passing of Lynn Arnett. They seemed impressed by the Dons' aerial attack, one player commenting, "I'll bet they really click this year."

Although beaten 19-0, the sailors put up a good fight considering the U. S. S. West Virginians hadn't had a football club in four years. They scheduled the Dons to prepare for a tussle with the San Diego Marines Sunday.

Arnett, the Anaheim boy, is a deadly passer up to 50 yards, and what is all the more pleasant, he has demonstrated to Coaches Bill Cook and John Ward that he also can run with the ball. He has been one of the surprises of early drills.

QUARTER-FINALS REACHED IN U. S. TENNIS CHAMPIONSHIPS

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—Foreign competitors, visibly uneasy, were spending more time around the press box asking for the latest "war" news from Europe than in watching the matches as the national tennis championships reached the quarter-final stage today.

Except for a pair of Australians, Jack Bromwich and Harry Hopman, they all had been eliminated from the men's title hunt, leaving six Americans in virtual command of the situation. But the defeated British, French and Yugoslav delegates still were around, wondering if they would receive calls to hurry home and not go on west for the Pacific coast events.

Henner Henkel was the only German sitting in the players' stand. He was ordered to return home a fortnight ago, after the German Davis cup team lost to the Australians in the inter-zone final, but he has lingered here as a spectator. Friends of the popular young player are worried at his apparent disobedience of orders.

Top interest in the tournament today was centered on the quarter-final tilt between Gene Mako and Gilbert Hunt, Jr., two unseeded young men with big ideas. Mako, who knocked off Franjo Puncer of Yugoslavia in his previous match, says he will play his famous double match today in Sunday's final. Hunt is the Washington mathematics teacher who dislodged Bobby Riggs on Monday.

The other men's duel was between Bromwich and Joe Hunt, young American Davis cup team alternate, with Bromwich a decided favorite on the strength of his crushing three-set defeat of Frankie Parker two days ago.

Two women's quarter-final matches paired Dorothy Bundy Chandler with the machine-like Madame Rene Mathieu of France, and Margaret Lumb of England against Nancy Wynne of Australia. Since her conquest of Helen Jacobs, left-handed Miss Lumb is favored by a lot of critics to win the tournament. Her fore-hand drive is the hardest in the women's game today. The boys have quit suggesting that Bromwich might possibly lick Budge in the men's final. The red-head left little doubt in anybody's mind that he is the pappy of the amateurs by the manner in which he poured it on luckless Charlie Hare yesterday in three sets, 6-3, 6-4, 6-0. Budge still hasn't lost a set in his fourth major championship, and he probably will not lose one.

SANTA MONICA. (AP)—Fay Coleman and Art Bell, boasting opening sub-par scores of 65, led the way today as the field swung into the second round of the Southern California open golf championship over the Clover Fields course. ## Saints Acquire Woodrow Wilson For Sept. 23 Tilt

DONS IN LAST DRILL FOR PASADENANS

Arrangements were completed today for Santa Ana High school's football squad to play a practice game Sept. 23 with Long Beach Woodrow Wilson. Whether the contest will be played here or at Long Beach will not be determined until tomorrow, Coach Bill Foote said.

Previously, the Saints had scheduled Long Beach Poly for their opener here Sept. 30, so their game with Woodrow Wilson of the Bay League will be a tune-up for the clash with their old Coast Prep league rivals.

Another hard workout was slated for the Saints at Clayton field today.

DONS POLISH PLAYS FOR PASADENA TILT
Preparatory to entering the Rose bowl at Pasadena tomorrow night to battle Pasadena Jaycee at 8 o'clock in their first practice game, Santa Ana Jaycee's Dons were to go through a light workout at the Municipal bowl this afternoon.

Coaches Bill Cook and John Ward were to select their starters after today's drill. Co-Capt. Larry Timken and Lynn Arnett, quarterback; Art Heinisch, Bob Davies and Sam Henderson, fullbacks; Jerry Nesmith and Bill Joseph, outside halfbacks; and Harold Tucker and Follo Beck, inside halfbacks, are in line for the call. Timken, Heinisch, Nesmith and Tucker probably will start.

The "Downtown Quarterbacks," pep club, announce a brisk sale in tickets. Membership sells for $2, entitling the member and a guest to the right to purchase 50-cent tickets in a reserved section between the 40-yard lines on the Santa Ana side. The membership is good for all home games of the Dons.

SEATTLE TAKES 13TH STRAIGHT

By the Associated Press
The second-place Seattle Suds with 13 straight wins to their credit retained the league-leading Los Angeles Angels' biggest worry today as the 1938 circuit baseball schedule neared its end.

The Suds unleashed an eight-hit, eight-run attack in the fifth inning to overcome a San Diego Padre lead and win, 8 to 1 last night. Up to the fifth the best the Suds could do was get a couple of scattered singles off Dick Ward.

Ward was sent to the showers in the fifth after he had allowed seven hits and four runs. The veteran Herman Pillette, who replaced him, was nipped for only one hit. Two errors after Pillette took the hill helped the Suds score four more runs.

SPORTS Roundup

By EDDIE BRILETZ

NEW YORK. (AP)—How about a little football dope, readers? . . . Notre Dame is in for one of its toughest seasons. . . . I know 100 huskies reported for early practice and all that, but don't be surprised if the Irish drop five or six games.

Keep an eye on John Carliss, a sophomore down at West Virginia. . . . We're telling you now the guy is hot. . . . Also George Stringweiss, North Carolina's ace quarterback, who probably will be the outstanding performer in the Southern Conference. . . . Pitt's starting backfield (that is, No. 1) should be better than Notre Dame's Four Horsemen of 14 years ago. . . . Dartmouth is the crew to watch in the East, although Prof. Lou Little at Columbia has a few tricks he hasn't pulled out of his hat yet. . . . Correction: Instead of reporting overweight, as we chronicled recently, Marshall Goldberg, who carries the mail for Pitt, checked in weighing 184, six pounds less than he scaled last season.

Five members of Nebraska's starting eleven hail from Lincoln, a city of 80,000 and home of the Cornhuskers. . . . In fact, only four of the squad of 55 come from outside the state. . . . Virginia Tech is thinking of changing the school colors to green and black—the former to represent the material and the latter because it's the most appropriate for mourning. . . . Florida is all set to go to town. . . . In the Southwest it will be Rice and Texas Christian, with several others threatening. . . . The most publicized athlete in the Big Ten may be Fred Gage, a Wisconsin sophomore. . . . Things don't look so promising at Minnesota, but they'll probably spread-eagle the field, at that.

Odds and ends: Curly Lambeau, coach of the Green Bay Packers, is sending his son, Don, a 212-pound fullback, to Fordham. . . . The Messrs. Dupont are all smiles because at least 350,000 shells were used in the recent national skeet championship.

Although the Red Sox train there, the folks down in Sarasota, Fla., are rooting for the Reds because Paul Derringer is so popular with the natives. . . . Incidentally, three or four major league clubs would like to move into Sarasota if the Sox ever leave. . . . Here's what happened to four guys on a Kitchener (Ont.) golf course: Bill Brickley, playing the 475-yard 15th hole, carded an eagle there. . . . Lloyd Tucker, pro at the course, took the hole away from him with a double eagle—two on a par-five hole. . . . The two other members of the foursome putted for birdies, but missed. . . . Not bad for four guys named Joe, eh?

CUBS APPROACH PIRATES AS GIANTS COP DOUBLEHEADER

By SID FEDER
(Associated Press Sports Writer)
They put a blowout patch on the Pittsburgh Pirates' pennant bubble today and tried to get it to take off again in what is hilariously referred to these days as the National league "race."

Those forgotten New York Giants, featuring a patch-up infield, a pitching staff relying on sore wings, all but blew the bubble to bits yesterday by taking both ends of a doubleheader from the "choked up" Pirates.

Thus was continued the happy custom of never allowing a dull moment in this daffy senior circuit chase, for the Chicago Cubs, by whipping Boston's Bees, climbed to within 2½ games of the top, and the Giants moved to a third-place tie with Cincinnati's Reds, who split a twin bill with Brooklyn.

Terrible Bill Terry gave up on the flag three weeks ago and then took up his option on a prerogative usually reserved for the fair sex, changing his mind and cutting the Giants back in. The terrific Terriers have rolled up their sleeves, and, with everything to win and nothing to lose, have decided it's up to them for a time to maintain the recent laugh-a-day production of the Ford Frick frolics.

As a result of the ally set of developments yesterday, the race looks something like this:

Of course, the Pirates, boasting a lead, are still the boys to beat, but they can't stay up there if they go through many more days like yesterday. Prince Hal Schumacher, sore arm and all, "sinker-balled" them to defeat, 3-0, in the first game, taking advantage of the fact they were pressing like your neighborhood tailor. In the nightcap, the Giants just sent a seven-run blast over in the second inning and coasted in at 10-3.

A homer by Gabby Hartnett with the bases loaded gave the Cubs a 6-2 margin over the Bees, but the Bostonians disputed the hit as being just a foul ball and finished the game under protest.

Ernie Lombardi landed two four-baggers and the Reds dropped the Dodgers, 8-4, in a doubleheader nightcap after the Brooklyn won the opener, 6-2. Ducky Medwick hit a pair of round-trippers as the Cardinals crushed the Phillies, 12-8 and 3-2.

The Yankees' final game of the year with Cleveland rained out, but the Yanks, nevertheless, advanced to a spot where they need only four wins to clinch the pennant. Boston's second-place Red Sox new York coasted in at 10-3.

Joe Heving, in the only game that escaped the weather man, the Athletics nipped the Browns, 4-3, on Wally Moses' ninth-inning homer, to climb out of the cellar.

EYSTON WILL RUN AGAIN TOMORROW

BONNEVILLE SALT FLATS, Utah. (AP)—Wealthy John R. Cobb of London usurped the world's automobile speed throne today with an unprecedented mark of 350.2 miles per hour.

The doughty fur broker smashed the record of 345.49 miles per hour established here Aug. 27 by Capt. George E. T. Eyston, retired British army officer.

Cobb, a new man at high-speed racing, flashed through the measured mile at 353.29 going north and 347.16 on the southward jaunt.

Eyston's average for the north run was 347.94 and for the south 343.51.

Eyston has announced he will run tomorrow, thereby continuing their costly and hazardous duel at speeds in the six miles a minute class. The former officer watched his record fall while flying along the course.

His seven-ton "Thunderbolt," with a remodeled nose and tail to perfect the streamlining, has been ready for 10 days.

Cobb's permit expired this morning, leaving the captain, who hoisted the record from 301.295 to 311.42 last November, a clear path for an attempt to regain his lost honors.

Cobb, his black and aluminum-colored racer thundering through the mile at a clip until recently believed impossible, was timed at 10.19 seconds for the north mile compared with Eyston's 10.36, and at 10.37 for the return, sprint compared with Eyston's 10.48.

Cobb's second average was 10.28; Eyston's 10.42.

The new king of speed said he would remain on the flats with "Ratton" for "a few days, anyway."

"I've been here too long already," he said. "I really ought to go back to England but I'll hang around a little while."

"The car ran perfectly," Cobb said. "Everything was top-hole and I'm tremendously pleased." Cobb, amiable and smiling, was confident even as he "walked the plank" from his supply truck and dropped into the tiny cockpit for another try at the record.

At no time did the racer waver. The "Ratton" straddled the black line which splits this glistening course near the Utah-Nevada border.

A track official's car sped parallel to the straightaway while Cobb went through the measured mile, but the Englishman said later he did not see the machine.

"One glimpse off the black line might have been disastrous," the big speedster said.

LEWIS FIGHTS JIM ADAMICK

PHILADELPHIA. (AP)—Predictions of a knockout battle were propelled with equal vigor today from rival camps priming Lightweight champion John Henry Lewis and Jimmy Adamick for their 10-round encounter at convention hall tonight.

Although no title is at stake in the bout—first of a number of major heavyweight battles to be staged during the indoor season by Herman Taylor, Philadelphia promoter—it will have an important bearing on the ring future of both fighters.

Troy Displays Fire In Bovard Workout

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Admiring supporters watched the Trojan football squad pound through heavy drills today, and harked gleefully back to the days of Erny Pinckert, Aaron Rosenberg and other grid greats at Southern California.

The 1938 Trojan outfit, said the observers, exhibit the same fire and spirit as some of the old championship teams did during practice sessions.

DEER HUNTERS OFF FRIDAY

LOS ANGELES. (AP)—Thousands of Southern California hunters will get off tonight for the opening of the deer season, which officially starts at a half hour before sunrise tomorrow morning.

The state fish and game commission reports the best hunting probably will be on the east slope of the High Sierras, Thomas mountain in Riverside county, Santa Rosa mountain just to the south and the mountains north of the game refuge in Angeles national forest.

For economy in spices and seasonings, buy a box of mixed whole pickling spices and pick out the different kinds, such as bay leaf, peppercorns and whole cloves to use separately.

Townsend News Views

By WALTER R. ROBB

Maine held its election on Tuesday of this week. According to an International News Service report the Republicans of that state with the aid of the Townsends re-elected Gov. Lewis O. Barrows with a 20,000 plurality over Democratic ex-Gov. Lewis J. Brann in the nation's first election of 1938.

It will be cheering news to the Townsends of the Pacific coast to read that "according to the backing of supporters of the Townsend old age pension plan which played a major part in the victories of Governor Barrows and the three Republican congressmen who were elected."

The news release says "F. Harold Dubord, Democrat, whose candidacy for congressman from the second district was personally urged by Postmaster Gen. James A. Farley in a tour of 19 cities and towns a few weeks ago, was sent down to defeat by a margin of about 9,000 votes by Republican Congressman Clyde H. Smith.

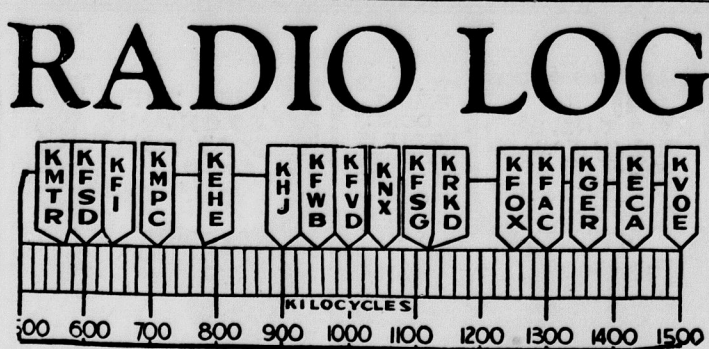

"In the first district Rep. James C. Oliver, militant supporter of the Townsend plan, was re-elected by an 18,000 plurality over Harold B. Emery, Democrat.

All the Townsends who attended the recent Townsend national convention in Los Angeles and heard Ralph O. Brewster, Republican congressman of Maine, will be tickled pink to read the following paragraph taken from the same news report. Here it is:

"In the third district Congressman Ralph O. Brewster, Republican, a former governor, defeated Melvin P. Roberts, Democrat, by approximately 11,000 votes."

Mary A. Ritter, secretary pro tem of the Buena Park club No. 1 writes that tonight's meeting will be devoted to business. The meeting will be held in the Woman's clubhouse at the corner of Eleventh and Grand streets. Mrs. Ritter reports that Florence B. Parks is gaining strength which will be pleasing news to her many friends. According to Mrs. Ritter's letter next week, Thursday, Sept. 22 at 6:30 p. m., the club will hold one of its famous pot-lucks which will be accompanied by some excellent music. Afterwards Mayor C. T. Johnson of San Bernardino will speak.

Paul H. Gardner, Los Angeles, inspirational lecturer for the Townsend plan and director of the inter-church activities of the Los Angeles Y. M. C. A., will speak for Huntington Beach club No. 1 at 7:30 this evening in Memorial hall at Sixth and Magnolia streets. This young man is a real speaker and should be heard by every person in Hunt-

THE MOUNTAIN BOYS

By PAUL WEBB

By JOHN HIX

PORTRAIT OF DEATH . . .

Originator of the dreaded Revolutionary Tribunal which ordered the guillotining of hundreds of victims of the Reign of Terror in France was Jean Paul Marat, president of the Jacobin Club.

One woman looked on Marat in the light of a bloody tyrant; she was Charlotte Corday D'Armanns, whose lover had been assassinated by travelling to Marat as a traitor to the Republic.

Travelling into Paris alone, she sought an interview with Marat with the expressed purpose of informing him against certain activities at Caen. During the interview, Charlotte Corday drew a dagger from her bosom fatally.

She was tried before Marat's funeral and was condemned to the guillotine the same day—July 17,

Strange as it seems, Charlotte Corday asked for a painter instead of a priest as her last request. No less than three hours before her execution an artist, Jean-Jacques Hauer, was summoned. In two hours he finished her portrait—reproduced above—and Charlotte calmly paid him with a lock of her hair and went to her death on the guillotine.

Georgia, Too

Georgia now falls in line with the parade of states picking candidates on whom the President tried to put the Indian sign.

The President lambasted both Senator George and former Governor Talmadge, praised the third man in the race for Democratic nomination to the senate.

The third man's name hardly need be mentioned, for both of Roosevelt's targets topped him when the count started. In popular vote, George is No. 1 and Talmadge No. 2, but, owing to Georgia's unique primary system, they may have to fight it out again in a run-off primary to decide who gets the nomination, which is the same as election.

Roosevelt made himself an issue in Maryland, too. There they led Davey Lewis out in the traffic. The brake slipped and the purge backed up over him. It is a shame. Because he is a statesman. And if he had stood for re-election to the house instead of getting lured into the senatorial contest he would have stayed in congress, for his victory would have been automatic. As it is, the nation is the loser.

We haven't felt, as a lot of others have, that Mr. Roosevelt's entrance into primaries was any sin. It was his right to take his chances, to yield to the urgings of his impetuous counselors, and to see where he came out. That was about as poor political management as this country has ever witnessed. Especially so in Maryland, the state more than any other in the Union super-sensitive to outside interference.

Hitler's diplomacy looks like holding three cards, to draw both ends of a straight, and bluffing her through.

Careful, Brother Tait!

We can't help admire William Tait, 70-year-old Scotchman, who just climbed to the top of Ben Nevis, highest peak in the British Isles.

It would be unjust to joke that the aged Scot had heard that someone had lost a shilling on top of the mountain; he climbed it as a sporting proposition, to show "what a 70-year-old man can do," as he phrased it.

Now, as added proof of his physical ability, he intends to swim four miles across Loch Linne.

The old gentleman should have a talk with modern doctors before he makes the attempt. They would tell him such exertions at his age are dangerous indeed.

The muscles may be firm, the mind clear and the eye keen—but with age comes Nature's demand that men and women use more moderation in their physical exertions. Because, at that age, the heart may be as valiant but it is not as strong as it was in youth.

The doughty Scotchman, if he persists in such spectacular demonstrations of his strength, will find himself deprived suddenly of the years of continued happiness he apparently has ahead of him.

Wise doctors would tell him to continue his exercise, but in more moderate form to preserve that marvelous health with which he has been endowed.

There are instances of failure in leading the Democratic jackass to water and making him drink.

Deep Swimmin'

The British national treasury reports that the national debt has passed the $40,000,000,000 mark for the first time in history.

Here's a "natural" for the cartoonists. Show Uncle Sam, almost submerged in the chilly waters of debt, with trickles running into his alarmed mouthpiece, calling to laborer, Mudianna Esto by name, who, because he receives the water's fine!

For misery still loves company.

If there's any consolation in the comparative situation it is that Uncle Sam will have some tangible gains other than battleships, gas masks and fighting planes to show for his "greatest debt in history."

Give a man a gift of gab and he will become a dictator if only in his family—his wife willing.

Bread That Is Sweet

A squid from Aliquippa, Pa., tells of an elderly Italian laborer, Mudianna Esto by name, who, because he receives a $3.60 subsistence check from the government each week, keeps the street clear that runs in front of his house.

Sweeping the street, he says, makes him feel good inside. "My bread, it tastes sweet because I work," he says.

Opportunity in the form of a highly desirable job may not knock at every man's door for some time to come. But there are things to be done and things worth doing for any man whose bread tastes sweeter because he works.

Reported that Mussolini, in case of war, will act "benevolently neutral" toward Hitler. Is Mussolini beginning to straddle?

Fair Enough

By Westbrook Pegler

NEW YORK.—A long time ago Mr. Ed Bradley, the gambling man, in a great blurt of kindly wisdom, told me, "You can't beat the races." This was unimportant information to one who rarely makes the effort, but, a bit of a skeptic, I long wondered whether his advice would stand the test of practical experiment.

The authority known as Consensus, being the refined and combined opinion of the best minds of horse journalism, made 28 predictions. One horse was scratched. Five gallant chargers won their races. Five ran second and five ran third. This is indeed excellent picking—15 horses in the money in 28 races. But a program of $10 wagered across the board on each horse picked to win would have yielded a net loss of $242.15. Had the horses been backed to win at $10 apiece, without regard for second or third money, the loss would have been $93.50.

We begin with the program for last Wednesday, in which Consensus delivered a winner at 7 to 1, the only really profitable venture of the entire experiment. The "best bet" ran fifth, and the score for the day at $10 across the board, was plus $10.50. On the nose, at $10 a race, the profit was $20.

Thursday was exasperating. Consensus picked the winners of the first two races at $11 to $5 and even money, respectively, but he steered ran second in the third race, third in the fourth and out of the money in the last three heats. Notwithstanding his having picked two winners and four horses in the money in seven stabs, Mr. Consensus sent his clients home with a loss of $56.20 had they bet across the board. Or had they backed his selections just to win they were out $18 apiece.

The prophets of horse journalism are against students of their stuff, and it is no fault of theirs that the bookmakers and—at the mutual tracks—the soulless gears and gadgets that grind the soul and bone of man let down so meagerly when hopes of their picking win the heats. Yet, as Mr. Bradley also said, it isn't beating the races to beat some races. For what profiteth it a sucker that he beat five races out of 27, with saving bets on 10 winners in the consolation spots, and come to the end of his venture with a deficit proportioned to $242.15?

Science News

Science Writer

Germans, to be properly patriotic nowadays, must all think alike. But an even harder task lies ahead, a task that will twist their tongues as well as try their souls. For the rules of the Reich have decreed that pronunciation of the German speech is to be made uniform throughout the land. Sibilants must be standardized, gutturals gleich geschaltet.

With characteristic German method, the job of compiling the big book that will make all German words sound alike has been assigned to a group of three professors, who are already ready to begin. (Geg pardon! Leader of the Central Institute for the Preservation of Spoken Language of the German Academy in Munich.)

They will issue, first, a small handbook, containing both native and adopted words in most common use. In a few years the mammoth official German dictionary, Handwörterbuch, that will contain all the words. After that there will be no excuse for deviating from the Nazi party line by so much as a slurred umlaut.

A writer in a German journal, Volk und Welt, enthuses: "The definitely established German speech as laid down in the standard work will be the language of everyday intercourse, and it will also be the speech of the radio, the schools, the theater, the platform, the speech of public ceremonials, in short, the speech of the people, which everyone understands and everyone speaks."

This applies, of course, only to official High German, supposedly standardized centuries ago by Martin Luther, but really spoken with as wide a variety of local accents, from Munich to Cologne to Bremen to Königsberg, as you will find in American English over a like range of territory in this country.

An American, remembering past efforts to standardize our own pronunciation, will recall the range of accents from Boston to New York to Richmond to Pittsburgh. And if he knows any German, he may say, softly, "Ja-sooonoh?"

When, being translated, is "Oh, yeah?"

The Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON and ROBERT S. ALLEN

WASHINGTON — Quiet-mannered Elmer Andrews has been wage-hour administrator only a month, but already he is up to his ears in the ferocious vendetta of the AFL and CIO.

Each accuses him of being unduly considerate of the other, and it looks as if he is in for the same sort of headache plaguing the National Labor Relations board.

The cross-fire began when Andrews indicated a representative of the AFL machinists' union in the preliminary discussions on the textile wage-hour code. The CIO promptly let out an angry snort. It denied that the AFL had any membership in the textile industry, and claimed all seven labor places on the code authority for the United Textile Workers, a CIO unit. When Andrews refused to be persuaded, Sidney Hillman, president of the Amalgamated Garment Workers and head of the textile workers organization committee, took the matter directly to President Roosevelt.

The controversy is still unsettled, and so far Andrews has stood pat. But with this friendly attitude in this first encounter, Andrews decided for his next try to tackle an industry where the AFL ruled the roost. He picked out tobacco and designated an all-federation labor committee.

No sooner had he announced this than the CIO was again on his neck. It admitted that the AFL dominated this field, but claimed the CIO had 16 locals and demanded they be given representation on the code authority.

Elmer, demanded an irate CIO leader, "how do you get this way? First you give the federation, which has no members in the textile industry, representation on that code authority and now you are barring our unions from a place on the tobacco authority. What kind of one-sided show are you trying to run, anyway?"

Note — Unlike Labor Secretary Perkins, who dislikes and distrusts newspapermen, Andrews is choosing his right-hand assistants from the press. So far he has employed five crack newsmen, among them Paul Sifton of New York, Harold Jacobs of the Santa Barbara, Calif., News-Press, and Carl Skinner of the Washington Bureau of The Wall Street Journal.

Counter-Purge
Governor Clarence D. Martin of Washington is giving a reverse twist to the president's purge.

A conservative democrat, Martin has launched a movement to "purge" administration supporters in his state. Called the Democratic League, the organization is headed by John T. Dutton, Martin's political man Friday and a bitter New Deal foe. It is backing republicans and old guard democrats running against the state's strong pro-New Deal congressmen.

Realistic Politician
There is a congressman who is frank enough to admit he may be among the missing next session.

In a letter to SEC Chairman Bill Douglas recommending a young man for a job, this house member wrote, "If I am re-elected I'll be able to get him a job myself, but I'm facing a mighty uncertain fight. My opponent is a clean-cut, two-fisted young man with a lot of ability and popularity and maybe I won't be coming back next year."

Unexpected Friendliness
The National Association of Manufacturers, one of the most uncompromising foes of government meddling in business, is taking a surprisingly temperate attitude toward the anti-trust investigation. Monopoly probers are still pinching themselves, but it really is true.

In a special report to its members, NAM not only pooh-poohed fears of a "witch hunt" but advised them that they could help keep the "objective" by aiding in the "collection of factual and informative material."

"Strong differences of opinion exist on the myriad of subjects to be considered," the report declared. "Some things which appear to be bad practices to members of the committee will be regarded as sound practices by representatives of industry. Such differences should not be taken necessarily as ground for questions as to sincerity, or self-interest on either side."

Some probers are skeptical about how low this friendly attitude will last, but all are grateful that the NAM is starting off that way. It marks a great change from its unrelenting hostility toward other New Deal undertakings.

Big-Friend Guy

The other day a tall lanky young fellow wobbled into a swanky bar not far from the White House and truculently informed the bartender he disliked him because he wore glasses. Then he demanded a drink. The bartender said "nothing doing."

"Out where I come from in Oklahoma," shouted the visitor, "we don't take that kind of lip from any barkeeper, to say nothing of a guy who wears specs. You better give me that drink!"

"You've had all you can carry," said the bartender quietly. "Now beat it before something happens to you."

"Well, I like that," was the indignant retort. "This is a fine way to treat a personal friend of Senator Josh Lee. I'm warning you now, I'm going to talk to Josh about this and you'll regret these insults."

Note—Young Senator Josh Lee is a teetotaler.

A Puzzle

CAMBRIDGE, England. — What are the heavy particles of about 200 times the weight of the unitary electron, that get knocked dizzy by occasional incoming cosmic rays? Scientists would like to know. At the meeting of the British Association for the Advancement of Science here they listened to an American colleague, Prof. W. H. Furry of Harvard, while he told how much (or how little) physical research has thus far disclosed about these elusive citizens of the sub-atomic world.

There do not seem to be many of them, at least in the rather widely scattered parts of the earth where cosmic ray research goes on, for of the thousands of photographs that have been taken of particle collisions only a few have shown these heavyweights being jostled about.

Of course, nobody ever sees or photographs the particles themselves. But when cosmic rays are permitted to dash through a partial vacuum containing a little water vapor, the electrically charged particles they hit fly off at an angle, leaving behind a trail of white mist and this can be seen and photographed. It is something like a skyrocket — you cannot see the rocket itself but you know where it goes from the trail of sparks it leaves behind.

TOO MUCH TRAFFIC

To the Editor: There's more traffic, more cussing, more wasted time for the motorist along Santa Ana's Main street than any point on the highway from downtown Los Angeles to San Diego.

And, there's no reason for it—no sense to it at all.

The through traffic should be by-passed out of our business district.

The man from up north on a hurry-up trip down south isn't helped by Main street congestion.

The Orange county resident who wants to shop along Main or Fourth street gets all snarled up in the traffic. The shopping trip—far from a pleasure—is a hazardous adventure, in which he risks dented fenders and dented nerves.

The rush of through traffic doesn't help the business man in Santa Ana. All that traffic merely makes it more difficult, more unpleasant for the customer to get to his store. Not a tourist in a thousand stops to buy.

So, count the people who are NOT helped by the present situation: the tourist, the local people who want to get to our stores, and the proprietors of those stores. Nobody benefits.

Divert all possible traffic out of the business district, and all will be helped.

A. Q. HAGGENHEMPER.

What Other Editors Say

FACE THE ISSUE!

The Democratic party convention, which will meet in Sacramento on Sept. 15, will face the question of declaring for or against the proposed $30 a week pension plan.

If the Democratic party, directly or indirectly, by equivocal words, by honeyed phrases, or by any other device, gives its support to this fantastic scheme, then indeed it may make certain—and justly so—of its own political disgrace.

The right and proper course for the party to follow has been pointed out by its titular leader, one whom the Democrats profess to hold in the highest esteem and affection — President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

His solemn words, spoken before the primary, are just as true and just as applicable today as they were in the frankest possible fashion he warned against fantastical short-cuts to Utopia and against the deception and dishonesty inherent in the advocacy of such schemes.

And he specifically declared the ham and egg pension plan belongs in this category, as it surely does.

Are the Democratic leaders of California to repudiate the President when they know in their heart of hearts that the President is right; that the "scrip tease" pension scheme is a mirage; that its chief support comes from wishful thinking; that its facts and figures have been juggled into a theoretical maze for no other purpose than to mislead and deceive the unthinking and so provide purple and fine linen for its promoters?

Choose you this day whom ye will serve.

That old Biblical challenge has come ringing down through the years.

And it will present itself with a demand for a clear-cut answer when the Democratic convention gathers.

A choice must be made. The Democrats may choose the way of courage and honor or the way of vote bidding regardless of ethics, honesty and sincerity.

They may choose the way that the great leader of their own party has pointed out to them, or they may wander off into the bypath of bizarre financial theories and find themselves sunk beyond redemption in the swamp of repudiation and defeat.—Sacramento Bee.

Would you like to have a few valuable pointers on how to look for a job? Well, here are some excellent ones that I took from a book just out by Glenn L. Gardner entitled, "How You Can Get a Job" (Harpers).

These suggestions give you the employer's angle, and deal with what he is thinking about you. He may not ask these questions, but he would like to know the answers. Here they are:

1. I wonder if the man applying to me has a job to offer you.

2. If I hire him, I wonder if he will be loyal to me, and to our organization?

3. Has he got initiative, or will I have to keep spurting him on?

4. Will he be a good team-worker and fit in with our organization?

5. He says he left his last job voluntarily. I wonder if this is true?

6. If I hire him, will he stay with us, or will he grow restless and flit away to some other company?

These questions are buzzing in your prospective employer's mind. Perhaps you shouldn't always try to answer them directly; but you can say certain things which will give him the indirect answers, and make him want to employ you.

And remember that your sole task in securing employment is just this alone, making the employer want to hire you.

If you are going to look for a job, read this again. Study it—then answer these questions for your prospective employer in that 10 minutes you are seated before him. You are not looking for a position? All right. But haven't you a friend, or a relative, who is? If so, why not clip this out and pass it along to him? He may thank you some day.

I shall never forget my first visit to a big city. It was in 1907. I was 19 years old at the time and had always lived on a farm. Warrensburg State Teachers college at Warrensburg, Mo., had sent me as its official representative to a conference. Naturally I had to pass through the city of St. Louis. A cousin of mine, Newton Alexander, was then working as a stenographer in a hospital conducted by the Frisco railroad. I spent the evening with him in his furnished room. He spoke of going to the park on Sunday. I was amazed at the thought of anyone wanting to spend time merely roaming about in a city. I thought all the city people went down town on Sunday to see the big buildings. That's the thing I wanted to do. I had lived among trees and open fields all my life. They meant nothing to me. I could hardly believe him when he said that city people took walks in the country on Sundays.

Today I know nothing which fascinates me more than to take a walk in the country.
